

Burns—Dugan

The marriage of Miss Ann Margaret Dugan, daughter of Mrs. John J. J. Dugan of 1846 Benson Ave., to John Thomas Burns, ensign, United States naval reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burns of Brooklyn, took place June 22 in St. Finbar's Church with the Rev. Thomas Little officiating. A breakfast followed at the Marine and Field Club.

Miss Dugan was given in marriage by her brother, John A. Dugan, and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Virginia M. Crecco, as matron of honor and the Misses Helen and Anne Burns, sisters of the groom, Miss Marie Dugan, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Philip Wall as bridesmaids.

George F. Burns Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Gerard F. Dugan, brother of the bride; Santi J. Crecco, brother-in-law of the bride; Edward Borsare and Anthony N. Santella.

After a short honeymoon Ensign and Mrs. Burns will live in Brunswick, Me., where the bridegroom is stationed at the present time.
